Georgia Basketball sports a wealth of team and individual historical achievements. Georgia has reached postseason play 26 times with 12 NCAA appearances, including the 1983 Final Four.

In 2016, Hugh Durham and Dominique Wilkins became just the second coach-player tandem to be enshrined in the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame together.

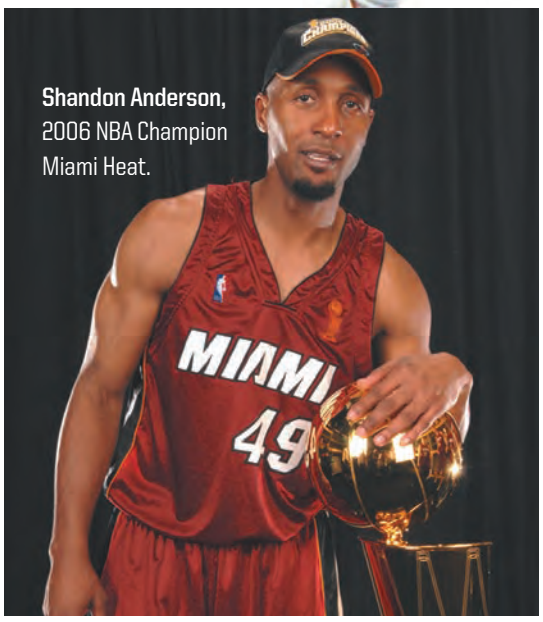
Georgia Bulldogs have been named All-SEC 95 times.

This season is the 30th anniversary of Georgia's 1990 SEC Championship season. After starting league play just 3-3, the Bulldogs caught fire and won eight of their next nine games to surge to the top of the league standings. That put Georgia tied atop the SEC with LSU and set up a monumental showdown with No. 12-ranked Tigers in Athens on Senior Day. After trailing by 19 points early in the second half, Georgia rallied behind All-American Alec Kessler, who scored 30 points and grabbed 16 rebounds while matched up against the Tigers' massive front line of Shaquille O'Neal and Stanley Roberts. Pandemonium ensued as the sell-out crowd stormed the court following the final horn of the 86-85 victory. The Bulldogs secured the outright SEC crown with a decisive 94-79 victory at Auburn in the regular-season finale the next Saturday, where Litterial Green poured in a season-high 30 points.

Dominique Wilkins, Atlanta Hawks, 2006 Naismith Hall of Fame Inductee.

Individually, Dominique Wilkins headlines an impressive list of former Bulldogs. The No. 3 pick in the 1982 NBA Draft, Wilkins was a nine-time All-Star and inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 2006. All told, 38 Bulldogs have been drafted by the NBA and several others – including Dominique's nephew Damien – have gone on to enjoy productive NBA careers as free agents.

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope became the second-highest draftee in UGA history when he was taken eighth overall by the Detroit Pistons in the 2013 NBA Draft. He currently plays for the Los Angeles Lakers.



Shandon Anderson, 2006 NBA Champion Miami Heat.

38 Bulldogs have been selected in the NBA Draft.

It's just what he was born to do. He loves to coach. I always say he's the kind of guy, if he sees kids outside playing basketball, he's going to get out of his car to coach them. He's a born leader and a born coach.

UGA transformed Stegeman Coliseum with two renovations costing more than $20 million in the past decade.

Over the past decade, Stegeman Coliseum has gone through two major renovations, providing the historic venue with a 21st century facelift. In 2016-17, an $8-million investment transformed the Coliseum within the arena's court and seating areas, as well as the addition of a massive center-hung scoreboard. That followed a $13-million renovation in 2010 that transformed Stegeman's concourses, upgrading the graphics and adding 5,000-square feet of concourse space on each side of the arena. Those efforts won awards from both the American Institute of Architects and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America.

Center-hung scoreboard
» 1008 square feet of HD video
» 1054 square feet of LED sections

Additional HD video
» 275 square feet on pre-existing board

Additional LED features
» 800 square feet on 3 ribbon boards
» 500 square feet over the 12 entry portals
» 50 square feet over 2 tunnels
» 375 square feet on 1 auxiliary board

Georgia Basketball's practice facility is one of the nation's largest at 120,000-square feet.

They've got great gyms, cold tubs, steam rooms... anything you need. The players who play here are super lucky to have these resources.

Kent Bazemore
Formerly of the Atlanta Hawks

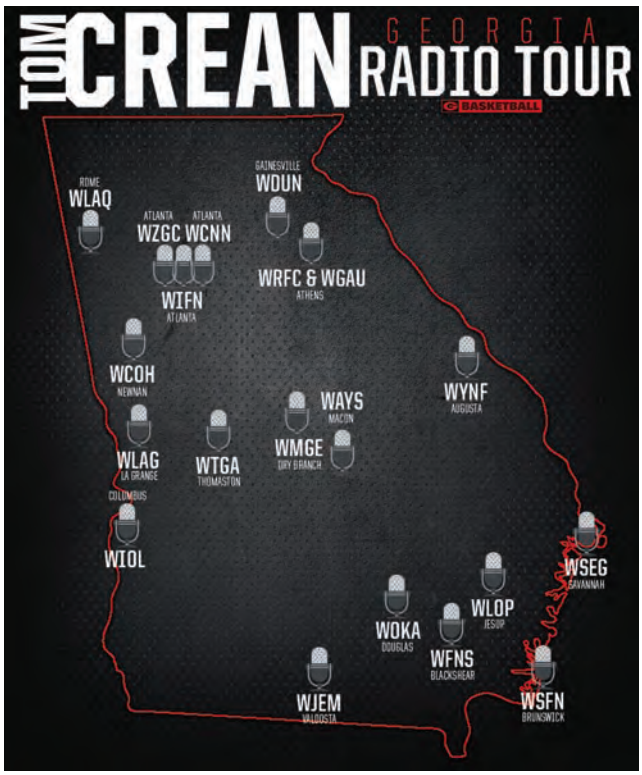
Georgia Basketball's state-of-the-art practice facility has hosted more than its fair share of visitors. When it opened a decade ago, numerous Power 5 programs flocked to Athens to tour the complex, as it quickly became known for its attention to detail and functionality. Case and point: the Atlanta Hawks made Athens their home away from home for five years and began their training camp at the practice facility. The second level is the home of Georgia Basketball, with offices, locker rooms, team meeting rooms, lounges, nutrition fueling stations, practice gyms and a satellite training room for both the Bulldogs and Lady Bulldogs. The first level houses, among other functional spaces, an expansive weight room and equipment room stocked with Nike gear from floor to ceiling.

90 MILLION

The SEC Network was available in more than 90 million homes when it came on the air in 2014, making it one of the most successful cable launches in television history.

TOM CREAN RADIO TOUR

In his first several weeks as head coach of the Georgia Bulldogs, Tom Crean appeared on 20 radio stations statewide, as well as additional ones in Tennessee, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama.



2

Sean Hayes is one of two SEC men's basketball S&C directors to be named a Master of Strength and Conditioning Coach by the CSCCA.

Sean Hayes is the longest-tenured member of the Georgia Basketball staff, joining the Bulldogs in 2010. In 2014, Hayes was awarded the status of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches Association, the organization's highest honor.

2

Georgia is one of two Power 5 MBB programs to receive public recognition for APR and a perfect GSR score in the most recent NCAA data.

In 19 seasons as a head coach, 56 seniors to play for Tom Crean have graduated from Marquette, Indiana and Georgia. At IU, six – including Victor Oladipo – earned their bachelor's degrees in less than four years and five secured master's degrees.

Juwan Parker was "America's Most Educated College Basketball Player" in 2017-18. Parker earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees in his first four years in Athens and then spent his fifth year working on a second master's. He was the only Division I player competing last season with a master's degree in hand.

Ezra Williams, an All-SEC guard for Georgia in 2002 and 2003, returned to campus to finish his degree in the spring of 2018. Williams did so after a professional career in the G-League and overseas in Italy, Holland and Turkey.

7

UGA Athletics has seven full-time sports nutritionists.

UGA Performance Nutrition consistently educates every student-athlete and coach, creating champions for life by utilizing current evidence-based resources to enhance mental and physical performance. The program is dedicated to providing fuel that allows athletes to optimize energy intake, nutrient timing, hydration and recovery with the following principles:

1. Food first
2. Individualized approach
3. Building habits
4. Optimize muscle mass for sport performance
5. Supplement education
6. Fueling with a purpose

DAWG B.I.T.E.S. are key to performance:

B: Build your breakfast
I: Increase hydration
T: Think protein, color, starch
E: Eat often
S: Sleep and recover

The goal of the Georgia athletic training staff is twofold: the prevention and care of injuries. Prevention is accomplished through pre-participation physical exams, preventative maintenance rehabilitation programs, taping, bracing, padding and education. When injuries do occur, the athletic training staff's responsibility is to evaluate, diagnose and provide proper care. UGA's athletic training staff has a common goal of returning the athlete to his performance level as quickly and as safely as possible. UGA's athletic training rooms feature top-of-the-line equipment in order to provide the highest quality of health care available.

4

Georgia Basketball has immediate access to each of UGA's four athletic training rooms.

Tom Crean arrived in Athens with a distinct vision. One of the first things he wanted to create was a preseason event to display the energy and enthusiasm surrounding Georgia Basketball. In October 2018, the Bulldogs hosted their first-ever Stegmania and more than 5,000 members of the Bulldog Nation took part. This fall, that number surged to more than 6,000. Stegmania has been, by all standards, a significant success. UGA students line up around the Coliseum to be among the first inside the arena and receive commemorative "Stegmania" t-shirts. The evening is then packed with pyrotechnic player introductions, a high-flying dunk contest and appearances by special guests such as Ayo & Teo in 2018 and Bill Goldberg and Blanco Brown in 2019. A lengthy autograph session with a distinct family feel wraps up the festivities.

The 2019-20 Georgia Basketball Guide was prepared specifically to assist members of the media covering the Bulldogs. Any specific requests beyond the information in this publication – interviews, credentials, photography, etc. – should be directed to:

CREDENTIALS

Credentials for University of Georgia home basketball games are issued for working media only and should be requested as early as possible. All requests should be made on official letterhead and sent to Mike Mobley at the above addresses.

Passes will be mailed when time allows. Other single-game credentials will be left at the Media Will Call window, which is located at the Box Office on the West side of Stegeman Coliseum (closest to Lumpkin Street) off Sanford Drive. Credentials are issued on a priority basis.

A limited number of parking passes will also be issued. Media parking for the 2019-20 season will be in the Coverdell lot, located off Smith Street below the Coliseum Training Facility. In addition, parking in the Carlton Street deck is free of charge for media and fans.

INTERVIEWS

Interviews with coaches and players will be conducted before practice on pre-determined dates. These opportunities will take place in the Taylor Room adjacent to the men's basketball offices on the second floor of the Coliseum Training Facility. Unless the calendar necessitates a change, these availabilities will take place the day before each home game, while road games will vary. As much advance notice as possible will be given for these dates and times.

Please contact Mike Mobley in the Sports Communications office for assistance.

PRACTICES

Georgia's practice sessions are generally closed to the media. Upon request, videographers and photographers may be allowed to shoot a pre-determined portion at the beginning of some practices. During this time, a member of the UGA Sports Communications office will be available to show where cameras are permitted.

GAME DAY MEDIA SERVICES

Stegeman Coliseum's press facilities are outlined in the diagram to the right.

The press room is located through Portal 3 and is equipped with wireless and ethernet internet access. A room with similar internet capabilities is available for photographers adjacent to the press room.

A pre-game meal is served approximately 90 minutes prior to tip-off outside the Richard B. Taylor Room in the Coliseum's practice facility. This room is located across the hallway approximately 20 yards to the right after exiting the press room.

Press seating is located above Portal 2 in section K of the lower bowl. Radio broadcast positions are at the scorer's table, while TV announce locations are at center court opposite the scorer's table.

Complete first-half and final box scores, first- and second-half play-by-plays, first- and second-half shot charts and post-game notes and quotes will be provided to all working media.

INTERNET ACCESS

Media wishing to obtain high-speed Internet access may log on via either through wireless or hard-wired ethernet method. Both are available in the working press room and the media seating area within the Coliseum. Please see a member of the UGA Sports Communications office to obtain information on how to access the University network.

IN-GAME STATISTICS

Media covering Georgia home games can view a running statistical account on a web browser by logging onto: uga.statbroadcast.com.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Only those accredited photographers working on assignment will be issued sideline credentials. Flashes and strobe units are prohibited unless permission has been granted. Photographers should shoot from the designated endzone locations. No photographers are permitted in the bench area of either team.

Photographers who wish to transmit their photos on-site are asked to use the room adjacent to the working press room. This area is specifically dedicated to the transmission of photography and provides greater work space.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Georgia's locker room is closed to the media after every game. Per policy for SEC home games, the visiting head coach, Georgia head coach Tom Crean and requested Bulldog players will be brought into the Conference Room, which is located on Floor Level through Portal 2.

Visiting teams will determine their own post-game procedure for available players; however, most opponents choose to conduct those interviews outside their locker room. The location is through Portal 1 of the Coliseum playing floor and through the double-doors to the left at the end of the hallway.

At road games, requested players generally will be available outside the Georgia locker room, while Coach Crean will honor SEC and/or host institution's post-game procedure.

THE GEORGIA BULLDOG RADIO NETWORK

The best and broadest exposure possible for UGA basketball comes from the Georgia Bulldog Radio Network by IMG Sports. Not only with its vast number of affiliates, but also from its powerful flagship station AM 750 in Atlanta, the network gives coverage to Bulldog hoops that is unmatched by any program nationwide.

IMG Sports provides radio network production for more than 30 major college athletic programs in the SEC and other prominent conferences across the United Stats. The network flagship is News/Talk 750 WSB — Atlanta's 50,000-watt, clear-channe. station — which provides coverage with a signal that reaches more than 35 states and Canada. Scott Howard and Chuck Dowdle will again handle the play-by-play and color analyst duties, respectively.

Coach Tom Crean can also be heard each Thursday night during the season on the Bulldog Hotline, heard over most of the network stations.

Scott Howard (right) and Chuck Dowdle will work their fourth season together in 2015-16.

SCOTT HOWARD

The voice of Scott Howard has become synonymous with Georgia sports and in particular, with Bulldog football and basketball. Howard returns for his 25th season behind the microphone at Georgia basketball games. First a color analyst with legendary voice Larry Munson, Howard will be working his 22nd season as the Bulldogs' primary play-by-play announcer.

Howard was the sports director at Athens radio stations WNGC-WGAU for 14 years before joining IMG Sports in 2009.

A 1984 Georgia graduate, Howard began his association with Bulldog football as a color analyst alongside Munson in 1994. In 2007, he broadcasted play-by-play action in all of Georgia's road football games, and the next season he became the program's primary radio voice by the third game. Howard was also play-by-play announcer for Georgia baseball from 1990-96.

CHUCK DOWDLE

Native Atlantan Chuck Dowdle, one of the most prominent figures in the Atlanta sports scene, will return to the Georgia Bulldog Radio Network for the his seventh season as color analyst.

Dowdle retired from WSB-TV in 2009 after 24 years as weeknight sports anchor with the top-rated station. Dowdle also worked for WPLG in Miami from 1973-85. During that time, he hosted the Don Shula TV Show and also announced football for the Miami Dolphins and the Miami Hurricanes, as well as the NASL's Ft. Lauderdale Strikers.

During his time at WSB, Dowdle was involved with almost every aspect of Atlanta sports, from announcing Falcons' preseason games to hosting UGA football and basketball coaches' shows. He was also the host of "High-Q", a game show pitting some of the Atlanta region's brightest high-school students against one another in academic competition.

Dowdle attended UGA in his freshman year, where he played for the basketball team. He then transferred to Georgia State, where he was a pitcher for the baseball team in his junior and senior years, before graduating in 1972.

TONY SCHIAVONE

Tony Schiavone is producer/engineer for the Georgia Bulldogs Basketball Network. He serves in the same capacity for broadcasts of football games on the Georgia Network.

Schiavone is best known for his role as a professional wrestling announcer and recently joined the All Elite Wrestling broadcast team. Previously, he enjoyed a successful run as a TV host in wrestling for Turner Sports, WWE and various other entities for nearly 20 years.

Schiavone began his broadcasting career in minor league baseball in Charlotte, N.C. and he currently serves as play-by-play announcer for the Gwinnett Stripers, the Atlanta Braves' AAA minor league baseball affiliate.

GEORGIA, SEC SPORTS ON SIRIUS XM RADIO

For the ninth straight season, Georgia basketball games can be heard across the nation on Sirius XM Satellite Radio. The SEC and Sirius XM Radio, the leader in college sports on the radio, are partners in a broadcast and marketing agreement, under which Sirius XM is the official satellite radio provider of the SEC. The vast majority of basketball games and selected other sports, are available to subscribers nationwide.

Christened in 1964 as the Georgia Coliseum, the venue was officially renamed and dedicated to the memory of Herman James Stegeman on Saturday, March 2, 1996. Stegeman made many contributions to Georgia's athletic program during his 20-year tenure (1919-39). He was a pioneer in the development of college basketball in the south, originating the region's first big basketball tournament when he organized the Southern Conference Tournament in Atlanta from 1921-32. Stegeman Hall on the UGA campus was named for Coach Stegeman in 1946 and for years it was home of the University's athletic and physical education departments. The athletic department moved its offices to the new coliseum in 1964, and Stegeman Hall was demolished in 1995 following completion of the Ramsey Student Center for Physical Activities.

The Coliseum is actually two separate structures, the roof and the building beneath it. The only connection is an aluminum bellows which seals the joints and permits the rise and fall of the roof with temperature change.

Stegeman has undergone thorough renovations in the last few years, receiving a 21st Century face lift. In 2017, fans walked in to the final product following more than $20-million in renovations over the past several years.

During the summer of 2017, the arena received a massive center-hung scoreboard, new black seats, an improved LED lighting system, a state-of-the-art sound system and graphics above the horseshoe end celebrating past teams and retired jerseys. That followed work in 2017 which provided a dramatic mural covering the Coliseum's distinctive end wall.

In 2010, Stegeman's concourses received a similar makeover, upgrading the graphics, enhancing spectator access to concessions and restrooms and adding 5,000-square feet of concourse space on each side of the arena. Those efforts won awards from both the American Institute of Architects and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America.

In addition, Stegeman Coliseum was utilized for rhythmic gymnastics and preliminary volleyball competition during the Centennial Olympic Games in 1996.

DOGS SEASON ALREADY OFF TO RECORD-SETTING START

Most preseason basketball hype events are just that...nights for the basketball teams to get fans excited about the approaching months of hoops action.

This fall, Georgia's version – Stegmania II – included a massively significant news item. During head coach Tom Crean's address to the more than 6,000 Bulldogs fans on hand, he announced that Georgia had sold out of Stegeman Coliseum's season ticket allotment for the first time in program history.

"I think it's great," Crean told the media at the conclusion of the evening's festivities. "We're going to need them to be here and help us because we have a lot of growth to make with this team. You can't win without them in the sense of having a great home-court atmosphere, and there's no question that's something we're going to need. Having sold out of our season ticket allotment is a very good start to having just that this season and beyond."

The season ticket sellout comes on the heels of what already was a record-setting effort at the box office during Crean's first season in Athens. Georgia shattered its all-time total attendance record last season by more than 9,000 fans and in the process also produced the fourth-best average attendance mark in school history.

"It's mind boggling to me that we broke that attendance record," Crean said last season. "I thought we would set it at some point, but not the first year. It just says so much about the spirit of the people here, the energy they feel, the passion that they have and the fact that they see what we're building, and I'm very thankful for that. Now we have to keep it going."

Selling out Stegeman's season ticket allotment for 2019-20 is certainly a positive indicator of just that.

EXACTLY 1K RETURNS

Georgia's five returning letterwinners scored exactly 1,000 points during the 2018-19 season. Rayshaun Hammonds led the way with 339 (12.1 ppg), while Tyree Crump added 292 (9.1 ppg), Jordan Harris chipped in 226 (7.8 ppg), Tye Fagan contributed 78 (2.5 ppg) and Amanze Ngumezi put up 65 (2.1 ppg).

PREMIER RECRUITS JOIN UGA

An unprecedented five top-100 prep prospects join Georgia's roster this season, including Anthony Edwards (pictured right), the highest-rated recruit in program history.

The Bulldogs' recruiting class has been ranked among the nation's top-10 groups – No. 5 by ESPN.com, No. 6 by rivals.com and No. 9 by 247Sports.com – and features a quintet of consensus top-100 prospects. By comparison, Georgia signed five top-100 players in the last 13 years combined.

In November 2018, the Bulldogs inked Jaykwon Walton and Toumani Camara, who were No. 80 and No. 97, respectively, in the 247Sports composite rankings for the Class of 2019.

In the spring and summer of 2019, Georgia added three more members of the 247Sports.com composite top-100 – No. 2 Anthony Edwards, No. 67 Christian Brown and No. 95 Sahvir Wheeler.

The Bulldogs rounded out the class by adding some additional size (signing 6-11 Rodney Howard and 6-8 Mike Peake) and shooting (walk-ons Jaxon Etter and Stan Turnier).

Edwards, an Atlanta native who announced his commitment in a nationally televised ceremony on Feb. 11, is the Bulldogs' highest rated recruit ever.

Dominique Wilkins was the most hyped recruit in Georgia history in 1979. Individual recruiting rankings for the class are believed to be unavailable but that year featured Wilkins along with Ralph Sampson, Isiah Thomas, James Worthy, Clark Kellogg and Sam Bowie.

In the internet age, Kentavious Caldwell-Pope is the highest ranked player in the 247Sports.com composite to enroll at UGA at No. 12 in 2011. Louis Williams signed with the Bulldogs as the No. 6 prospect in the 2005 composite but opted to enter the NBA Draft.

The Bulldogs' highest recruiting class ever was a quintet listed at No. 2 in 1992. That year, Hugh Durham inked four of the nation's top-100 prospects in the fall period with Shandon Anderson, Terrell Bell, Pertha Robinson and McDonald's All-American Carlos Strong. Georgia then added Cleveland Jackson, the national Junior College Player of the Year, to that list in the spring.

Additional top classes in Georgia history include those in 1979 and 1980 which featured four McDonald's All-Americans between them. The Bulldogs signed Dominique Wilkins and Terry Fair in 1979 and followed that with Vern Fleming and James Banks a year later.

ALOHA FOR THANKSGIVING

Georgia is set to compete in the Maui Jim Maui Invitational for the first time ever this season.

The Bulldogs join an elite tournament field: BYU, Dayton, Kansas, Michigan State, UCLA, Virginia Tech and tournament host Chaminade at the Lahaina Civic Center. All told, those programs boast a combined 201 NCAA Tournament appearances, 45 Final Four berths and 16 national championships.

"What you learn right away is that you've got to go in there with mid-season to late-season toughness, execution, perseverance and energy because that's what everybody else has," Tom Crean said. "The atmosphere is second to none when it comes to the way the tournament is run, whether it's the music, whether it's the public address announcer or whether it's the way the fans treat you. It prepares your team for so many things that you will see throughout the season. It is an absolute marathon inside of three days to see where your team can go."

The Bulldogs were presented with a ceremonial surfboard to commemorate their participation in the Maui Jim Maui Classic at Georgia's football game against Murray State in September.

BULLDOGS CELEBRATE SEC CHAMPIONSHIP ANNIVERSARY

The 2019-20 season marks the 30th anniversary of one of Georgia's greatest teams – the 1990 SEC Champions.

Hugh Durham led the Bulldogs to a 20-9 finish and a 13-5 mark in league play to deliver an outright SEC title.

A net-cutting ceremony did not appear in the cards at the beginning of the 1990 conference campaign. After starting SEC play 3-3, the Bulldogs caught fire and won eight of their next nine games to surge to the top of the league standings. That put Georgia tied atop the SEC with LSU and set up a monumental showdown with No. 12 Tigers in Athens on Senior Day.

After trailing by 19 points early in the second half, Georgia rallied behind All-American Alec Kessler, who scored 30 points and grabbed 16 rebounds while matched up against the Tigers' massive front line of Shaquille O'Neal and Stanley Roberts. Neville Austin, a 60-percent free shooter and 1-of-5 at the line in the game to that point, clinched the victory by sinking a free throw with five seconds left.

Georgia clinched a share of the league title when the Tigers lost at Florida three days later, and the Bulldogs secured the outright SEC crown with a decisive 94-79 victory at Auburn in the regular-season finale the next Saturday, where Litterial Green poured in a season-high 30 points.

HAYES JOINS CIRCLE OF HONOR

Jarvis Hayes, a two-time All-American for the Bulldogs in the early-200s, is among four former UGA student-athletes who will be inducted into the UGA Athletics Circle of Honor in February 2020.

The recognition is the highest all-sport honor possible for a Georgia student-athlete or coach.

In just two seasons, Hayes left quite a legacy at UGA. Hayes and his twin brother, Jonas, transferred to Georgia in 1999, having played at Western Carolina as freshmen. After sitting out the 2001 season, Jarvis averaged an SEC-best 18.6 points per game in 2002. He again led the Bulldogs offensively in 2002-03 while averaging 18.3 points per game.

Hayes helped Georgia to a combined 41-18 record in his two seasons, with an NCAA Tournament berth in 2002. He joined Dominique Wilkins to become just the second Bulldog to earn consensus first-team All-SEC honors two times.

Hayes was selected by the Washington Wizards with the No. 10 overall pick in the 2003 NBA Draft. He played seven seasons with Washington, Detroit and New Jersey, as well as two seasons internationally in Italy and Romania.

SETTING A STANDARD IS KEY

As the Georgia Bulldogs prepared for their second season under head coach Tom Crean, there was a buzz surrounding the Bulldogs. Georgia welcomed 10 new players to the roster – nine freshman and a graduate transfer. The sheer number of first-year players on the roster provided for plenty of questions for Crean and his staff to ponder.

Q. What is vital to the team's development on a day-by-day basis?

"Standards are the huge thing. We try to talk about there's a line you've got to get to when it comes to intensity and enthusiasm and production and overcoming fatigue. When you fall under that line, it's not good for anybody, especially with a younger team like this. The key is we don't have anybody yet on the team that makes it uncomfortable for guys not to play as hard and as well as they need to play. That's where leadership comes in in a lot of ways. We've got really good guys, and I think they like each other. That part of the chemistry will come, but I think the other part really takes off when you've got guys that are leading the way with holding other guys to a standard. Then it becomes more than just a coach-led and coach-centered team. It becomes more a of a player-driven team. That takes time to get to."

Q. What must go well for this team to be most successful?

"The biggest thing for us is, if we're playing well, we have strength in numbers. I think that means that we stay relatively injury-free, guys continue to develop so they can play multiple positions and are versatile players and can play both ends. The bottom line as far as how far are we going to go is are we making jump shots."

Q. With so many new faces, how is the team coming together?

"I like our camaraderie. I think they really get along. We've got seven scholarship freshmen, two walk-on freshmen and a graduate transfer. They work hard. They spend a lot of time at it. They have to understand what causes you to lose. There's too many times we play to play. We haven't played a game yet, but they have to understand we're playing to win. Practice is a time to develop, and we're going to spend a tremendous amount of time on player development. Bottom line is, we've got to understand that we've got to compete and we've got to go to a level and standard that they have to have on both ends of the floor."

Q. What are the challenges of coaching nine freshmen?

"I think what happens with young players, and it's all over sports, is they lose focus so quick. You've got to get them to understand, 'You've got to get over disappointment quickly, and you've got to get your focus and your concentration back quickly.' You've got to be able to string stops together or good offensive possessions together. That's where we're at. We're in a big-time 'learning what it takes phase.' That's what we've got to stay focused on."

Q. What attribute will allow to your team to reach its potential?

"We've got to have people to rebound the ball. You're not winning in the SEC if you don't rebound the ball. You're not even sniffing winning if you're not rebounding the ball. Then, you've got to find that edge inside of rebounding. I think we need guys that rebound and understand the grit and toughness that goes into that – the moving and the cutting without the ball. We've got to have some people emerging that will really guard the better players on the other team and not let them get to their strengths. Those roles we've got to kind of force feed a little bit and see who's going to emerge. It could be a couple people emerging throughout the season, but nobody's role is to come down and be the main operator every time. We need a team of guys that make decisions. As we continue to learn that, we'll be much better."

Q. How key is leadership among the players?

"It's huge, and it's an ongoing thing. A leader is somebody that doesn't have to be playing well to continue to lead and have it not affect. It's great to be a leader with confidence. It's great to be a leader when you're fresh, but you have to continue to be the same guy when it's not going well for you. That is a definition of leadership in modern day college basketball. You've got to be able to do that. That's where the leadership comes. I think all in all, we've got grow as a team."

Q. Why did you decide to list every player as "B" on the roster?

"That's what they are. It's not valid to call them centers and power forwards and things like that as much with the way that we're trying to play. They're being trained as basketball players, every day. I mean if you came out there to practice (6-11) Rodney Howard, a lot of times is doing the same things that (5-10) Sahvir Wheeler's doing. And in the sense of how we train with the ball handling, the driving, the shooting – all those type of things – that's big to me. That's what we're recruiting. We're recruiting basketball players. We have what we call our leopard offense. The leopard changes spots right – like we're a spot team. It's not: 'You're the '5' man. You're the '2' man.' It's 'You're in the '2' spot. You're in the '5' spot.' I shouldn't call it an 'offense;' it's not like it's a set play. It's just you're moving guys around, you're taking your set plays and moving guys into different spots and really trying to do it at the drop of a hat and try to do it on the fly. We're training guys to play the game, training guys to be well versed in all aspects of the game."

The palpable excitement Tom Crean brought to his introductory press session as Georgia Basketball's 22nd head coach on March 16, 2018, has continued with his tireless effort to turn the Bulldogs into a national power.

During his initial meeting with the media, Crean enthusiastically professed his appreciation for UGA's reputation as one of the nation's premier public universities, which drew him to the job and his affinity for the Bulldogs' motto. He then laid out his plan to make Georgia one of the nation's premier programs.

"We come in knowing that we're coming into a world-class university," Crean stated. "I've been privileged to work at some great places. This is a world-class university that is world-known for what they do, for what they are about."

Quite a First Year

Crean's impact on the program was immediate, both on and off the court.

While Nicolas Claxton's development drew the most national attention, the improvements of Georgia's younger players was consistent and significant.

Claxton, who was the No. 231 prep prospect in the Class of 2017, blossomed into one of the SEC's most diverse talents and the No. 31 overall pick in the 2019 NBA Draft under Crean. After posting one double-figure scoring output as a freshman, Claxton notched 21 in 2018-19. He also became the first Bulldog ever to lead Georgia in points, rebounds, blocks and steals.

In addition, Rayshaun Hammonds played almost the exact same average of minutes as his freshman year – 24.2 in 2017-18 and 24.3 in 2018-29 – but upped his scoring average by 80.6 percent – from 6.7 ppg to 12.1 ppg. Tyree Crump and Jordan Harris also bumped their point productions. Crump went from 6.5 ppg to 9.1 ppg, an increase of exactly 40.0 percent. Harris scored 3.5 ppg as a sophomore and 7.8 ppg as a junior, a 122.9 percent adjustment.

The improvements didn't stop in the scoring column. The combined shooting percentages of those three returnees increased dramatically: +5.7 percent on field goals (.389 to .446), +5.1 percent on 3-pointers (.313 to .364) and +10.1 percent on free throws (.709 to .810).

While the Bulldogs were developing, fans were watching. Georgia shattered its total attendance record during Crean's first campaign in Athens by more than 9,000 fans. UGA enjoyed seven sellouts, including a span of six straight spanning throughout January and February.

All the while, Crean was assembling one of the nation's top-5 recruiting classes. Georgia eventually inked five of the nation's top-100 prospects, as many as the Bulldogs signed in the previous 13 years combined. That included the nationally televised commitment of Anthony Edwards, rated as the No. 1 or No. 2 recruit by most national scouting services.

Back to Day One

Crean touched on the potential for all of the aforementioned during that introductory press conference when he admitted he always kept an eye on the Bulldogs.

"I've always paid attention to Georgia," Crean said. "You can't be in this business of college sports, college basketball, and not have a really good view of what it's all about at this school. I've paid attention from afar, and I've been an admirer from afar. When you're in a sports family like I am, you look at what's happened with the different sports teams and you're paying a lot more attention than just to basketball."

Crean paid homage to the Bulldogs' popular "Commit to the G" catchphrase, realizing that motto also will be one of the focal points of his task at UGA.

"We have got to find a group of people that are going to 'Commit to the G,'" Crean said. "I saw that long before today. I've been in Atlanta enough over the last year, I've seen that on billboards, and I think it's really cool."

The media certainly agreed Crean's press conference was a victory. Jeff Schultz of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution provided the most descriptive offering: "It would've ranked as one of the greatest pre-game speeches of all times if it wasn't just an introductory news conference. Part Zig Ziglar. Part Herb Brooks. Part Knute Rockne...He won the news conference. I was ready to run through a wall for him (or, as a 5-10, 58-year-old, into the wall)."

As a head coach prior to Georgia

Crean arrived in Athens with nearly two decades of experience regularly leading his teams to national rankings and post-season bids.

Crean compiled a 356-231 record in 18 combined seasons at Marquette and Indiana from 1999-2017. Those teams reached postseason play during 13 of those campaigns, with nine NCAA appearances and four NIT bids. Crean led Marquette to the 2003 NCAA Final Four and reached four Sweet 16s at Marquette and Indiana. All told, Crean's teams have been ranked in the Associated Press and/or USA Today polls during 12 seasons, including top-10 finishes in 2003 (No. 6), 2013 (No. 7) and 2016 (No. 9).

Individually, Crean has coached eight players who have won 10 All-America certificates. Thirteen of his players at MU and IU went on to play in the NBA, including nine who were on opening day rosters for the 2018-19 season. Claxton joined that ledger in 2019 as the amount of money Crean's professional players have either earned or are under contract to earn surged to more than $581 million. Though Crean discusses the forenamed on-court success with great pride, he boasts with an equal amount of vigor that all 52 of his seniors at MU and IU earned a degree.

At Indiana

Crean compiled a 166-135 record in nine seasons at Indiana from 2008-17. His tenure can be broken down into to distinct segments. IU was 28-66 in Crean's first three seasons and 138-69 over the next six.

When Crean arrived in Bloomington, he inherited a program with only one returning player, a pending NCAA probation and scholarship restrictions due to poor academic performance. The Hoosiers faced the loss of two scholarships due to an 866 APR score. Under Crean, IU received an NCAA Public Recognition Award each of his last three years and had a perfect four-year mark of 1,000.

The Hoosiers thrived on the court during the latter two-thirds of Crean's tenure. Indiana won outright Big Ten titles in 2013 and 2016 and were ranked in each of those six seasons, including 11 weeks at No. 1 in 2012-13. During that span, IU also had the most potent offense in the Big Ten, leading the league in scoring (77.8 ppg), field goal percentage (47.7) and 3-point percentage (40.1). In fact, the Hoosiers led all Power 5 schools in field goal percentage in that time frame and in 3-point percentage since Crean joined the Hoosiers.

Crean was named National Coach of the Year in 2012 by ESPN and voted Big Ten Coach of the Year in 2016, the same season he was a finalist for Naismith National Coach of the Year honors. Three Hoosiers earned All-America accolades under Crean - Cody Zeller (2012 & 2013), Victor Oladipo (2013) and "Yogi" Ferrell (2016). At IU, 21 of Crean's Hoosiers graduated, with six – including Oladipo – securing their bachelor's in less than four years and five of those earning master's degrees.

At Marquette

Crean served as head coach at Marquette from 1999-2008, leading the program to the 2003 Final Four and four more NCAA bids. In his nine years with the Golden Eagles, Crean's teams earned five NCAA Tournament bids, one more than the previous four Marquette coaches had in the 16 years prior to his arrival. Marquette also participated in three NITs, reaching the 2004 quarterfinals, and obtained AP top-25 rankings during six of Crean's last seven seasons in Milwaukee. The Golden Eagles earned final national rankings of No. 9 in 2003, No. 12 in 2002, No. 20 in 2007 and No. 25 in 2008.

Crean was named National Coach of the Year in 2002 and Conference USA Coach of the Year in both 2002 and 2003. His star pupil, Dwyane Wade, earned C-USA Player of the Year honors in 2003 as well. Three Golden Eagles earned All-America accolades – Wade (2002 & 2003), Travis Diener (2005) and Dominic James (2007). After Crean departed for Indiana, two of his players were named All-America – Jerel McNeal (2009) and Lazar Hayward (2010).

As an assistant coach

Crean's winning ways were well established before he became a head coach. From 1989-99, Crean was a member of the staffs at Michigan State (under Jud Heathcoate and Tom Izzo), Western Kentucky (under Ralph Willard) and Pitt (also under Willard). Those 10 teams combined to win four regular-season and two conference tournament titles. They also reached postseason play eight times (five NCAAs and three NITs). The season before assuming the reigns at Marquette, Crean helped Michigan State reach the 1999 Final Four.

Personal

A native of Mount Pleasant, Mich., Crean earned his bachelor's in parks and recreation with a minor in psychology from Central Michigan in 1989. While at CMU, Crean coached at Alma College and Mount Pleasant. Crean received CMU's Distinguished Alumni Award in September 2014. He was honored at the 2014 Dick Vitale Gala for his outstanding contributions in support of the V Foundation.

While on the staff at Western Kentucky, Crean met and married the former Joani Harbaugh. They have three children: Megan (24), Riley (20) and Ainsley (14). Joani's father, Jack, and brothers, John and Jim, are highly successful football coaches. Jack was a long-time head coach at WKU, where he won the 2002 Division I-AA national title. In 2013, John (Baltimore Ravens) and Jim (San Francisco 49ers) guided their teams to a historic Super Bowl matchup. John is still with the Ravens, while Jim is currently head coach at Michigan.

GEORGIA	Assistant Coach	2018-

Joe Scott, who sports 16 seasons of head coaching experience at three Division I schools, joined the Georgia staff in April 2018.

Scott, who in 2013 was tabbed one of the nation's top-20 "Xs & Os" coaches in a survey of his peers by ESPN's Jeff Goodman, was head coach at Air Force for four seasons, Princeton, his alma mater, for three campaigns and Denver for nine seasons. All told, Scott sports 28 years of collegiate coaching experience.

Scott was head coach at Air Force from 2000-04 and brought the Falcons to unprecedented success. He took over a program that had not produced a winning record in 22 years and four years later led the Falcons to a 22-7 finish, the Mountain West Conference regular-season champion-ship and their first NCAA Tournament appearance in 42 years. That same season, he was named MWC Coach of the Year, the NABC District 13 Coach of the Year and finished fourth in balloting for AP National Coach of the Year.

From 2007-16, Scott was head coach at Denver. He took over a program that ranked 335th (of 336) in the NCAA RPI prior to his arrival and went on to produce a school-record Division I 22 victories in 2012 and 2013. In 2012, Scott was a finalist for the Hugh Durham Award as the nation's top mid-major head coach. In 2013, Denver shared the WAC regular-season title, earned an NIT bid and secured its first postseason win ever.

Scott was the head coach at Princeton from 2004-07. The Tigers finished first nationally in scoring defense in 2006-07 after being second in Scott's first two seasons.

Before breaking into the head coaching ranks, Scott was an assistant coach at Monmouth and at Princeton. While at Princeton, Scott helped the Tigers to five consecutive postseason appearances, with trips to the 1996, 1997 and 1998 NCAAs and the 1999 and 2000 NITs. The Tigers won three Ivy League titles from 1996-98, including perfect 14-0 records in the final two seasons. Princeton upset defending national champion UCLA in the 1996 NCAA Tournament and ranked as high as No. 7 nationally in 1998 en route to earning a No. 5 NCAA seed, the highest ever for an Ivy League team.

Scott spent the past two seasons on Bill Carmody's staff at Holy Cross. Carmody was an assistant coach at Princeton when Scott was a four-year letterwinner from 1983-87. Scott also served as an assistant coach along with Carmody under Pete Carril from 1992-96.

Scott was a three-year starter and two-time All-Ivy selection at point guard at Princeton. As a freshman, Scott helped the Tigers win the Ivy League title and reach the second round of the NCAA Tournament. He led Princeton in steals as a sophomore, junior and senior and still ranks No. 7 among the Tigers' career leaders with 144. Scott connected on what was then a school-record 59 3-pointers as a senior. He scored 809 points in 99 career outings – 8.2 ppg.

Scott earned his bachelor's degree in history from Princeton in 1987 and then secured his law degree from Notre Dame in 1990. He worked for the Morristown, N.J., law firm of Ribis, Graham & Curtin before beginning his coaching career.

A native of Pelican Island, N.J., Scott was a three-sport prep star (basketball, football and baseball) at Toms River East High. He has been inducted into four halls of fame – the Tom Rivers Schools Athletic Hall in 2004, both the NJSIAA and the Toms River Regional Schools Halls in 2005 and the Jersey Shore Sports Hall in 2013.

Scott is married to the former Leah Spraragen, a four-year starter at point guard for Princeton. They have two sons, Ben and Jack.

CHAD DOLLAR

ASSISTANT COACH | MILLIGAN '96 | 2ND SEASON AT GEORGIA

Chad Dollar, an Atlanta native with more than two decades of college coaching experience, was named an assistant coach for the Georgia Bulldogs in April 2018.

Dollar came to Georgia after spending the previous season on the staff at South Florida, where he played during the 1990s. Dollar's résumé includes stints within the SEC at LSU and Auburn.

The Dollar name is a familiar one within Georgia basketball circles. Chad's father, Don, won more than 650 games and three state titles as a high school coach, primarily at Frederick Douglass High in Atlanta. Chad was an all-city performer in 1989 and a second-team all-state honoree in 1990. He and six of his Douglass High School teammates went on to sign Division I scholarships.

Dollar spent the 2016-17 season at Auburn, where the Tigers tallied their most wins (18) since 2008-09, and the the five seasons prior to that (2011-16) at Georgia Tech. Dollar was an assistant coach for his first three seasons with the Yellow Jackets before spending the final two as associate head coach.

Dollar was on the staff at Wichita State for the 2010-11 campaign when the Shockers won the NIT and finished 29-8. He spent three seasons as an assistant coach under John Brady, two at Arkansas State (2008-10) and one at LSU (2007-08). Dollar also coached at Murray State (2006-07), Georgia Southern (2002-06), Eastern Kentucky (2000-02) and Western Carolina (1998-2000).

Dollar began his coaching career at Gardner-Webb, serving as a volunteer assistant for one season and a graduate assistant for another. He then moved to the staff at Southern Miss for the 1996-97 season when the Golden Eagles finished 22-11 and reached the NIT.

Dollar also spent two summers coaching with Athletes in Action, assisting with selection of players and conducting of the team's training camps. In 1997, Dollar traveled with AIA to Macedonia and Croatia, while in 2001 he ventured to the Ivory Coast.

Dollar was a three-year letterwinner at South Florida from 1990-93, including teams that reached the 1991 NIT and the 1992 NCAA Tournament. He completed his collegiate playing career at Milligan College (Tenn.). Dollar distributed a what was then school-record 194 assists during the 1994-95 season while helping lead the Buffaloes to a 24-12 finish and their first-ever appearance in the NAIA Tournament.

Dollar earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Milligan in 1996. Dollar and his wife Kyla have three children – daughters Aliyah and Chloe and a son, Darian.

Dollar's younger brother, Cameron, played at UCLA and helped the Bruins to the 1995 NCAA Championship and is currently an assistant coach at the University of Washington.

John Linehan, one of the premier defensive players in college basketball history, joined the Georgia Basketball staff as an assistant coach in May 2019.

"I'm excited about adding John Linehan to this staff," head coach Tom Crean said. "I simply love his background and his story. He has a solid foundation in coaching and amazing playing experience. He is the all-time NCAA D-I steals leader, was two-time Big East Defensive Player of the Year and had a long and highly successful professional career overseas. He grew up in the same area as Kobe Bryant, and I heard Kobe say one time that John Linehan was the toughest defender he ever faced.

"The bottom line is, no matter what you're doing, you've got to have people who are making your players better in every facet of their lives on a daily basis, and that's what I think John's going to bring to our staff," Crean continued. "He has attacked recruiting and player development and has a defense-first mentality that has made every program he has been a part of better. We feel he will do the same at UGA"

Since that time, McGarity has emphasized exploring new ideas and initiatives designed to move the organization forward in all areas of competition, academics, service, and exceptional experiences for student-athletes and supporters.

McGarity oversees a 21-sport athletics program supported by a budget of $154 million. Since he became Director of Athletics, UGA teams have won seven national championships in women's swimming and diving (2013, '14 & '16), equestrian (2014), women's indoor track and field (2018), men's outdoor track and field (2018) and women's indoor tennis (2019), 21 SEC championships in football (2017), men's tennis (2011, '13, '14, '15, '16 & '17), men's tennis SEC Tournament (2012, '13 & '17), women's tennis (2013 & '19), women's tennis SEC Tournament (2014), women's swimming and diving (2011, '12, '13, '14 & '15), equestrian (2015, '17 & '18) and four SEC eastern division titles in football (2011, '12, '17 & '18). JERE W. MOREHEAD

22ND PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

President Jere W. Morehead began his tenure as the 22nd University of Georgia President on July 1, 2013. Under his leadership, the University has risen to No. 13 on the 2019 U.S. News & World Report ranking of best public colleges and has completed a series of initiatives to enhance student learning and success, including a requirement for experiential learning for all undergraduates.

Additionally, the University has surpassed the $1.2 billion goal of its ongoing fundraising campaign and launched an Innovation District initiative to create UGA's campus of the future where students and faculty will partner with industry to generate ideas and solutions to continue the University's role as a powerful driver of economic development in Georgia. In 2018, the University's economic impact was estimated at $6.3 billion. Research expenditures have increased 30 percent in the past five years, and UGA was the top U.S. institution for products based on university research reaching the marketplace in 2018.

In keeping with his focus on student success, President Morehead launched the ALL Georgia Program to support students from rural areas and created the Double Dawgs program, which enables students to save time and money by earning an undergraduate and graduate degree in five years or less. UGA graduates are in demand: in 2018, 96 percent of graduates were employed or in graduate school within six months of graduation.

President Morehead has served the University of Georgia since 1986 in both faculty and administrative roles. Before becoming President, he was Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost from 2010 to 2013. Prior to 2010, he held several key administrative assignments, including Vice President for Instruction, Vice Provost for Academic Affairs, Associate Provost and Director of the Honors Program, and acting Executive Director of Legal Affairs.

He is the Meigs Professor of Legal Studies in the Terry College of Business, where he has held a faculty appointment since 1986. He is a co-author of several books and book chapters, including The Legal and Regulatory Environment of Business, and he has published scholarly articles on legal topics ranging from export controls to jury selection. He has served as Editor-in-Chief of the American Business Law Journal.

President Morehead has received several University-wide teaching awards, including the Josiah Meigs Award—UGA's highest honor for teaching excellence, the Richard B. Russell Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, the Teacher of the Year Award in the Terry College of Business, and the Lothar Tresp Outstanding Honors Professor Award.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Georgia State University and a law degree from the University of Georgia.

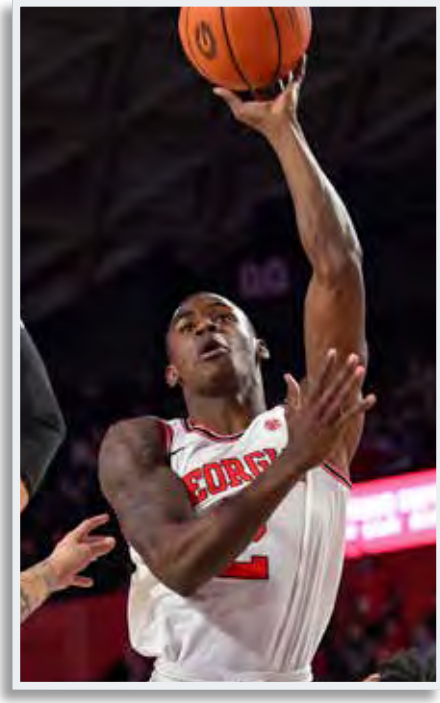
2 JORDAN HARRIS

6-5	195	SENIOR	IRON CITY, GA.	SEMINOLE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

2018-19 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Played in 29 contests, with all 13 starts coming in his final 14 outings.
◊ Posted 12 double-figure scoring outputs, featuring 10 in his last 14 games.
◊ After scoring 204 points in his freshman and sophomore seasons combined, contributed 200 points as a junior.
◊ Established career-high performances in every statistic, including 26 points against Missouri, 11 rebounds versus Ole Miss, four steals at South Carolina and 38 minutes played at Florida.
◊ Led the Bulldogs in steals in 13 games.
◊ One of two Bulldogs – along with Rayshaun Hammonds – to start both exhibitions.
◊ Tied what was then his career-high scoring output of 12 points quickly (in 16 minutes) and efficiently (5-of-9 on FGs, 2-of-2 FTs) against Georgia State.
◊ Nearly doubled his scoring contributions from pre-conference contests (4.5 ppg) to SEC play (8.9 ppg).
◊ Collected what were then career-high boards in consecutive games. His six rebounds at No. 11 Auburn matched his best tally as a freshman and he bested that effort with seven vs. No. 12 Kentucky three days later.
◊ Recorded both his first double-digit rebounding tally and his first career double-double against Ole Miss in Athens.
◊ Against Florida in Athens, earned his first start since his freshman year (Jan. 25, 2017, at Alabama) and responded with a team-high 10 points.
◊ Missed two games with concussion-like symptoms caused by a collision with Nicolas Claxton late in the LSU game.
◊ Posted career-high scoring outputs in four-straight February outings, equaled his best performance with 12 points vs. No. 19 LSU and then topped that mark with 13 against Mississippi State and again with 15 at Ole Miss and again with 18 versus Auburn.



◊ After scoring in double figures nine times in his first 63 games played at Georgia, did so in 10 of his last 14 outings. In fact, his averages in that span of 11.7 ppg, 4.8 rpg, 2.0 apg, 1.7 spg and 0.6 bpg were massive jumps from his production in his first 16 games of the season (4.1 ppg, 2.5 rpg, 1.0 apg, 0.6 spg, 0.3 bpg).
◊ Capped his season with a career-high 26 points against Missouri in the SEC Tournament by connecting on 8-of-11 field goal attempts, including 3-of-3 from 3-point range and 7-of-8 free throws.

2017-18 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Logged action in 18 contests.
◊ Scored seven points in his season debut against Texas A&M-Corpus Christi...two buckets after being fouled driving to the hoop – one that became a three-point play – a pair of free throws with seven seconds left that iced the 68-65 victory.

 – Includes when tied for team-high*

After opening the 2018-19 campaign with a solid 8-4 effort in November and December – with three of those losses coming to eventual 2019 NCAA Tournament teams – the rigors of the deep and balanced competition of the SEC got the better of the Georgia Bulldogs during head coach Tom Crean's first season in Athens.

Seven SEC teams advanced to the 2019 NCAA Tournament, including four of UGA's home-and-home foes. The Bulldogs battled mightily and played some of their best basketball in February. Georgia suffered four excruciating losses to NCAA teams by a combined nine point before breaking through and securing a second-straight victory over Florida (another NCAA Tourney participant) in Gainesville.

"I think the bottom line for our own team was to keep understanding that we are that close," Crean said. "I mean it's not easy to be that close, keep losing, turn it around and keep doing it again. But building that level of resiliency, that level of toughness and that level of belief and care, well, that's the same thing you're trying to get across to recruits. And I think the fact that people can see that, I think the way that we were competing, the way we were coming back time and time again, when it didn't go as well, they see that too. They see that this is a team that is improving."

Another impressive sign of Georgia's development was sandwiched in SEC play. In perhaps the Bulldogs' most impressive outing of the campaign Georgia defeated Texas 98-88 in the SEC/Big 12 Challenge while shooting 66.7 percent from the floor and 70.6 percent from 3-point range.

"We had a phenomenal crowd," Crean said. "The atmosphere was incredible. There was a lot of passion and juice. At the beginning of the year when we said, 'Hey, if we're going to recruit this the way we want to recruit – the way the fans want – we're going to build this that way. People have got to be here. They've got to come. It can't be after we get it going. It's got to be now.' (The Texas game) was a great example of that being living proof."

ATTENDANCE MARK SHATTERED

Georgia bettered its total attendance record at Stegeman Coliseum during 2018-19, surpassing the old mark by 9,130 fans.

"It's mind boggling to me that we broke that attendance record," Crean said. "I thought we would set it at some point, but not the first year. It just says so much about the spirit of the people here, the energy they feel, the passion that they have and the fact that they see what we're building, and I'm very thankful for that. Now we have to keep it going."

Nicolas Claxton became the first Bulldog ever to lead Georgia in scoring, rebounding, blocks and steals.

Georgia drew 148,700 for its 17 home dates at Stegeman, easily outdistancing the previous record as outlined below.

CLAXTON DRAFTED BY NETS

All-SEC forward Nicolas Claxton declared for the NBA Draft following his sophomore season with the Bulldogs. He opted to remain in the Draft after an impressive NBA Combine that placed him as a first-round pick in most mock drafts.

Claxton eventually was selected by the Brooklyn Nets with the first pick of the draft's second round.

PERFECT AGAINST "THE ENEMY"

With its 70-59 win over Georgia Tech on Dec. 22 at McCamish Pavilion, Georgia's Class of 2019 secured a unique spot in the Bulldogs' history.

In the first 113 seasons of Georgia Basketball, only four, four-year Bulldogs finished their careers undefeated against the Yellow Jackets – the tandems of James Banks and Vern Fleming (1980-84) and Richard Corhen and Gerald Crosby (1981-85).

That number more than doubled with this year's victory as Mike Edwards, Turtle Jackson, Connor O'Neill, Derek Ogbeide and E'Torrion Wilridge joined that quartet. Christian Harrison also went undefeated against Tech, but only played two seasons in Athens after transferring from Troy. Those Bulldogs not only won each game, the did so by double figures. The last time Georgia posted four-consecutive double-digit wins over the Jackets was a stretch covering the 1908-09 through 1913-14 seasons

To adhere to "truth in advertising" principles...it should be noted that UGA and GT played at least twice each season from the beginning of the series through 1981-82.

"It's been my dream my whole life just to be here," Claxton told Georgia alum Maria Taylor on ESPN minutes after hearing his named called at the Barclays Center. "It just feels surreal right now to be here. I just want to show people I can play. A lot of people think I'm a project. I just want to show people that I can play and go out there and contribute in a major way."

Claxton became the Bulldogs' 38th all-time NBA Draft pick, declaring for the draft following a breakout sophomore season.

After averaging 3.9 points and 3.9 rebounds with one double-digit scoring performance as a freshman, Claxton averaged team highs of 13.0 points and 8.6 boards while accumulating 21 double-figure scoring outputs and 12 double-doubles as a sophomore. He also led Georgia in both blocks (81) and steals (34) and finished second in assists (58). Claxton finished the campaign ranked No. 10 nationally in blocked shots (2.4 bpg).

"We are all very happy for Nic," head coach Tom Crean said. "Being drafted by an organization on the upswing like the Brooklyn Nets that is so well run by Sean Marks and well coached by Kenny Atkinson will be tremendous for Nic. Personally, I was hopeful he'd go to an organization that was totally committed to player development, and that's definitely the case with Brooklyn."

Nicolas's dad, Charles, also was All-SEC for Georgia in 1993. When Nicolas earned All-SEC accolades, he and Charles became just the second father-son All-league tandem for the same school in SEC history. Vanderbilt's Frank and Luke Kornet were All-SEC in 1989 and 2017, respectively.

Charles also was an NBA Draft pick. He was chosen in the second round of the 1994 draft by the Phoenix Suns and eventually played with the Boston Celtics. The Claxtons are the fourth family duo in Georgia Basketball history to reach the NBA, joining Dominique Wilkins and his nephew, Damien; brothers Alec and Chad Kessler; and brothers Willie and Shandon Anderson.

- Junior Tyree Crump (127) and senior Turtle Jackson (126) ended the 2018-19 season ranked No. 15 and No. 16, respectively, among UGA's career leaders in 3-pointers made.

2008 SEC TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONS

Terrance Woodbury (above left) and MVP Sundiata Gaines (above right) led Georgia to the 2008 SEC Tournament championship with an unforgettable run that included two games in one day. After knocking off Ole Miss in overtime on Thursday, a category F2 tornado struck downtown Atlanta on the night of March 14 shortly before the Bulldogs were to take on Kentucky. It forced postponement of that second-round game, and the tournament's remainder was played at Alexander Memorial Coliseum (top), home court of arch-rival Georgia Tech. Georgia defeated both the Wildcats and Mississippi State on March 15 and then outlasted Arkansas in the championship game on March 16.

The late Alec Kessler, an All-America forward at Georgia in 1989-90, arguably rates among the top scholar-athletes in collegiate history. Kessler, a 3.91 student in Microbiology, was twice named the U.S. Basketball Writers Scholar-Athlete of the Year. For being so honored, Kessler was awarded a pair of $20,000 post-graduate scholarships. Kessler, who played four seasons for the NBA's Miami Heat, in 1991 donated all $40,000 from these scholarships to UGA's general scholarship fund.

DOMINIQUE WILKINS

Known as the "Human Highlight Film," Dominique Wilkins arrived in Athens in 1979 and helped take Georgia Basketball to new heights.

Individually, Wilkins was a two-time All-American and a three-time All-SEC honoree. He was also tabbed both SEC Player of the Year and MVP of the SEC Tournament in 1981.

From a team perspective, Wilkins led Georgia to the 1981 NIT, the Bulldogs' first postseason appearance. A year later, he helped Georgia advance to the NIT semifinals.

Wilkins entered the NBA Draft after his junior year. He was the No. 3 overall pick by the Utah Jazz but soon thereafter traded to the Atlanta Hawks. Wilkins played the majority of his career with the Hawks, where he was a nine-time All-Star, a seven-time All-NBA selection and a two-time slam dunk champion.

In 1991, Wilkins became the first Bulldog to have his jersey – No. 21 – retired by Georgia.

Wilkins was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame in 2004, was a member of the Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame's inaugural class in 2005, was Georgia Basketball's first inductee into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2006 and was inducted into the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame in 2016.

HUGH DURHAM

During 17 seasons at Georgia, Hugh Durham elevated Georgia Basketball to a national stage.

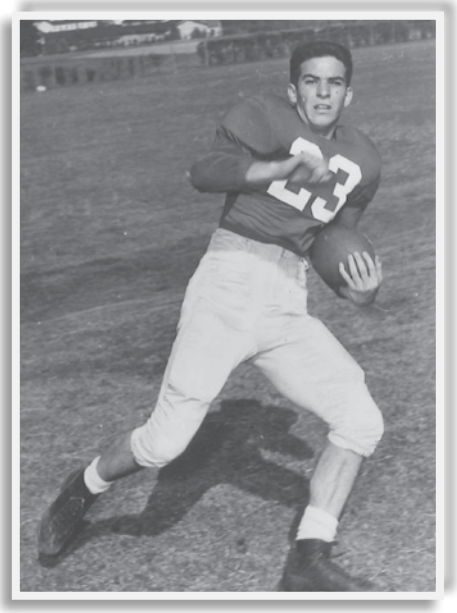
Durham is UGA's winningest coach with 297 victories. Prior to his arrival, Georgia had never received a postseason bid in 74 seasons. The Bulldogs reached postseason play 11 times during Durham's tenure and also won their first SEC Tournament in 1983 and SEC Championship in 1990. He was named SEC Coach of the Year three times – in 1985, 1987 and 1990.

In UGA's initial NCAA Tournament appearance in 1983, the Bulldogs advanced to the Final Four. Durham's Dogs defeated St. John's and North Carolina to win the East Regional before falling to eventual champion N.C. State.

Durham posted 633 career victories in 37 seasons, with 230 at Florida State and 106 at Jacksonville bookending his wins at Georgia. He was the first coach in Division I history to take two schools to their first Final Four and just the sixth to reach the Final Four at two schools.

Durham was inducted into the FSU Hall of Fame 1980, the Kentucky High School Hall of Fame in 1994, the Florida Sports Hall of Fame in 1999, the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame in 2009, the Kentucky Sports Hall of Fame in 2012 and the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame in 2016.

ZIPPY MOROCCO



Anthony "Zippy" Morocco came to Athens from Youngstown, Ohio. He became Georgia's first All-American in basketball (1953) and became one of the Bulldogs' most accomplished two-sport performers ever.

Morocco led the SEC in scoring in 1953 at 23.6 points per game on 590 points, breaking the existing SEC mark of 540 points by Kentucky's Cliff Hagan. He led the Bulldog football team in kickoff returns three consecutive years and in punt returns twice. He also was Georgia's top receiver in 1950 and averaged over 10 yards every time he touched the ball.

Morocco was enshrined the state of Georgia's Sports Hall of Fame in 1986.

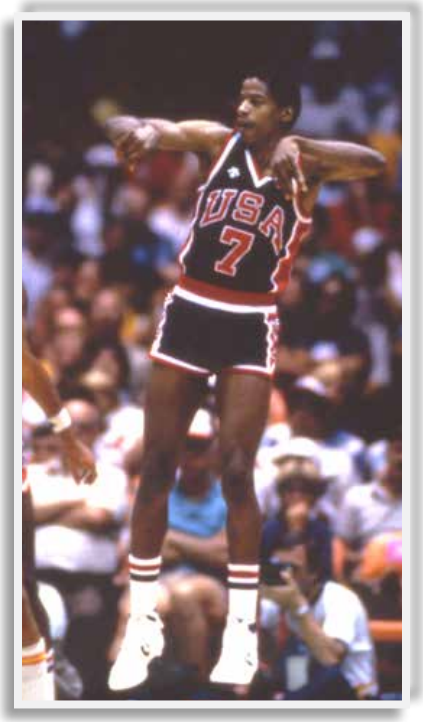
2018-19 ..... Miami Heat

UGA alum Sundiata Gaines, just days after his call-up from the NBA's Developmental League, defeated Cleveland with an improbable, buzzer-beating 3-pointer for the Utah Jazz in 2010.

Yante Maten went undrafted in 2018 but then chose to sign with the Miami Heat, which had no picks in the NBA Draft. A solid summer league performance earned Maten a two-way contract for 2018-19.

VERN FLEMING

1984 OLYMPIAN
LOS ANGELES GAMES



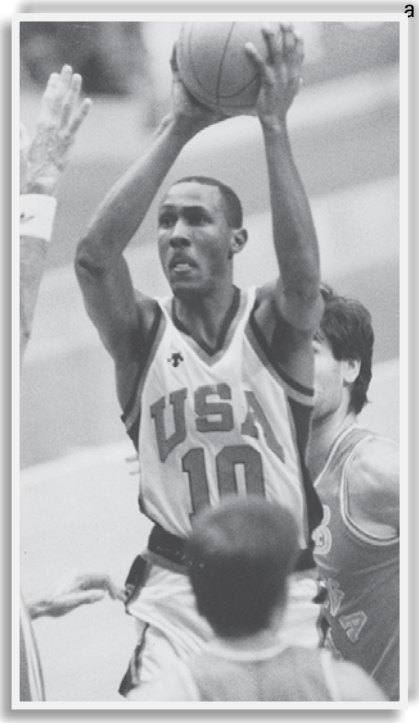
Vern Fleming, one of the finest Bulldog performers in history, made his mark at every level of competitive basketball. In 1984, he earned a spot on the U.S. Olympic Team and played a large role in its Gold Medal-winning effort. Fleming averaged 7.7 points during the Los Angeles Olympics, connecting on 51.1 percent of his shots. He also tallied 19 rebounds, 19 assists and nine steals.

Many consider the 1984 Americans as the finest amateur assemblage in the sport's history. The squad featured future Naismith Hall of Fame inductees Michael Jordan, Chris Mullin and Patrick Ewing.

From 1984-95, Fleming was a standout player for the NBA's Indiana Pacers.

WILLIE ANDERSON

1988 OLYMPIAN
SEOUL GAMES



Willie Anderson was a star performer of the 1987 and 1988 Bulldogs, leading the '87 squad to an NCAA Tournament berth.

In 1988, Anderson was selected to the U.S. Olympic Team and in the same year was the first-round draft pick of the San Antonio Spurs. The Americans earned a bronze medal at the Seoul Olympics. Anderson averaged 5.0 points per game while pacing the squad by shooting 64.0 percent from the field. He also added 13 rebounds, six assists, six steals and four blocks.

Anderson returned from Seoul and played seven years for the Spurs before doing stints with Toronto, New York and Miami to round out his 10-year career in the league.

JUMAINE JONES

1998
GOODWILLGAMES
NEW YORK, N.Y.

The 6-7 forward put an exclamation mark on his outstanding freshman season at Georgia by making the 12-man U.S. team for the Goodwill Games. Jones later started all five games for the Americans and averaged 7.4 points for the gold medal winners.

TREY THOMPKINS

2009
U19 WORLD
CHAMPIONSHIPS
AUCKLAND

Eighteen years had gone by since the American Under 19 team had won its last gold medal at this 2-week tournament. The rising Georgia sophomore played a key role in restoring the Yanks to the winner's circle. Thompkins averaged 10.6 points – second-best on the team – and 5.1 rebounds per game. He also had the Americans' highest single-game scoring effort when he poured in 22 in a 4th-round win over Greece. The U.S. team won all nine of its games by an average margin of over 22 points.

A year later, Thompkins was named to the USA Select squad, a group of collegians that worked as training partners alongside the USA National Team.

DAMIEN WILKINS

2015
PAN AM GAMES
TORONTO

Former Bulldog Damien Wilkins was selected for the United States National Team that participated in the 2015 Pan Am Games in Toronto. Wilkins, 35, played for the Bulldogs in 2002-03 and 2003-04 and served as Georgia's co-captain as a senior when he averaged 12.6 points per game.

"It's kind of surreal; hasn't hit me yet," Wilkins said after being chosen for the 12-player squad. "It's an unbelievable honor. I'm just super thrilled to be here. I feel just like a kid again. You're playing for country."

Wilkins started every contest in the five-game tournament and helped the Americans secure a bronze medal. He averaged 13.2 points while shooting 54.8 percent from the floor, 75.0 percent from 3-point range and 70.8 percent from the line. Wilkins also chipped in 5.0 rebounds in 25.4 minutes per game.

Following the Games, Wilkins signed a free agent contract with the Charlotte Hornets to continue his 10-season NBA career.

The first games in Georgia basketball history took place in the old YMCA building, located at the corner of Lumpkin and Clayton streets.

Since the inaugural season of 1905-06, Georgia basketball has called six different buildings home. These facilities have held a wide range of usefulness and pertinence to basketball. There's little doubt, however, that the Bulldogs' current home of Stegeman Coliseum is the best, most accommodating home they've ever had.

During the 1906-12 seasons, Georgia games were played in the old Athens YMCA building located at the corner of Lumpkin and Clayton Streets, currently the site of the Georgia Theater. The seating capacity for spectators was about 200, but it didn't seem to matter in those days. The earliest Bulldogs played their games in relative anonymity. Very rarely did the attendance reach full capacity at the YMCA building.

The building that is now called Memorial Hall on campus was the second gymnasium used by the Bulldog cagers. Construction on this facility began in 1910 and was to be built by the Alumni and the YMCA in a joint effort. The Alumni Association, however, eventually assumed full responsibility for the funds for its construction. Only in a partial state of completion, the team began to use the auditorium of "Alumni Hall," as it was called then, for its home games. Spectators viewed the games from a balcony which ran around the playing court, and the baskets were affixed to this balcony. In fact, the balcony became quite the advantage for Bulldog hoopsters, who had to tailor the arc of their shots to avoid hitting it.

Alumni Hall was used until about 1920, when the team moved to another on-campus location known as "The Octagon." It was located about where the current Main Library parking lot is, between the library and Jackson Street. Built in 1916 for $3,600 and for the purpose of accommodating summer-school functions, the Octagon was made of wood and sat approximately 1,400 people. The main problem for basketball was the lack of a heating system in this 8-sided building. There was also a four-foot opening around the wall up to the roof, with the roof overhanging to prevent rain from blowing in. The Octagon was used sparingly because of the absence of heat and also because of the ever-growing crowds.

Moss Auditorium, formerly the third floor of what became the Gallant-Belk store, was used for most of the games from 1920 until Woodruff Hall was completed. Crowds of up to 1,500 were estimated to have attended some of the home games.

Around this time, however, Coach Herman J. Stegeman was building quite a program. It became necessary for the basketball team to enjoy its own facility to accommodate the large crowds. Just before the completion of Woodruff Hall in 1925, the Bulldogs moved back into Alumni Hall, the construction of which had finally resumed after a fund-raising drive.

Excavation began on November 20, 1924 for the construction of Woodruff Hall, the building that was named for George and Harry Woodruff of Columbus, Ga. This facility was built in a central on-campus location, where the Journalism/Psychology building now stands, and had a seating capacity of 3,500. There was space enough for three basketball courts, with the main court measuring not quite the required length of 94 feet. Built at an estimated cost of $53,000, Woodruff Hall was officially dedicated by Dr. S.V. Sanford on Feb. 21, 1925 in a game where Georgia defeated Georgia Tech 34-24.

Woodruff Hall served as the Bulldogs' home for nearly 40 years. By the end of that stretch, however, many believed it had become the bane of the program.

Harbin "Red" Lawson was Georgia's coach for the last 13 years in Woodruff Hall. Publicly, he joked that it was the only basketball facility where wind direction and velocity affected his strategy. Other coaches, led by Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, despised playing games there. So dimly lit was Woodruff Hall that Auburn coach Joel Eaves turned out half the lights in his own gym, just to prepare for the Georgia game.

Eventually, Eaves became Athletic Director at Georgia. Two years into his tenure, in 1964, the Bulldogs dedicated their current home as the Georgia Coliseum. In 1996, it was given its current name of Stegeman Coliseum in honor of the man that first lifted the Georgia basketball program into prominence.

Over its 50 years, Stegeman Coliseum has hosted its share of memories, and also extracurricular functions. Operated in a co-op agreement with the University's agricultural college, the Bulldogs once shared the building with various rodeos and other livestock shows. And in 1996, the world's sporting attention turned to Athens, where Stegeman played host to volleyball and rhythmic gymnastics competitions at the 1996 Summer Olympic Games.

ENSURING THE FUTURE OF UGA ATHLETICS

In an effort to permanently fund student-athlete scholarships, the UGA Athletic Association founded the Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program. The Program allows friends of the Athletic Association to invest in the educational opportunities of our deserving student-athletes through endowing a named scholarship for $200,000.

The Athletic Association does not receive University, State or Federal funding to cover the full costs of in-state and out of state student-athlete scholarships. The interest generated from the endowment is critical in offsetting the scholarship costs for our current student-athletes. As the costs of higher education escalate, building a strong endowment is crucial to enhancing the lives of our student-athletes while preparing them for life beyond athletics. Contact The Georgia Bulldog Club at 877-GA-DAWGS today to learn more about endowment opportunities for one of UGA's 21 varsity sports.

All Athletic Scholarship Endowment Donors are invited to an annual reception where they have the opportunity to connect with the recipient of their scholarship.

To date, more than 200 scholarships have been endowed.
